Dear Linda,

Over the last 25 years, The Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS) has invested over $50 million in targeted funds for Indigenous museum and library services.

Now IMLS needs Lipan Apache Tribe of Texas's help to strengthen their Native American, Alaska Native, and Native Hawaiian grant programs in ways that help you better serve your community and achieve the outcomes you want for your programs.

On Monday, March 6th, you will receive a survey invitation from Kituwah Services, LLC, a Tribally owned enterprise owned by the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians. The time you invest on the confidential survey will help shape the agency's distribution of millions of dollars of IMLS grants to Native communities, and so we strongly encourage you to provide your insights.

If you would like to learn more, please contact Bill Medcalf from Kituwah Services at William.medcalf@kituwahservicesllc.com, or call (828)604-8191.

Sincerely,

Laura & Cyndee
